To Whom It May Concern:

I merely trusted that my in-column ad in Hagadone Directories' Black Phone book was working, but then I moved my business from Crescent City to Eureka shortly after I had renewed my ad in June of 2011. I am still receiving calls now in September of 2012 from people in Brookings, Oregon and Crescent City, CA who have found me in that issue of the phone book.

One thing that really impressed me about the company was how they understood what being a small sole-proprietary business meant financially and helped me come up with a program that is both effective and affordable.

I'd like to also give kudos to the art department who creates professional, readable, and attractive ads.

Sincerely,
